

For Immediate Release

Contact:

John Keith (720) 219-2001

johnk@harvardcommunities.com

Harvard Communities Is Honored as Finalist in Six BAR Awards Categories

Greenwood Village, CO. – (October 15, 2008) – Harvard Communities recently received notification from the Homebuilders Association of Metro Denver that they have been selected as finalists in six different categories in this year's BAR Awards, awarded by the Homebuilders Association. Winners will be announced at the BAR Awards celebration dinner, on November 1st, at the Downtown Denver Marriott.

The Bar Awards are earned by those who "Raise the Bar" and set a new standard of excellence in the Denver home building industry.

Harvard was chosen as a finalist in the following six categories:

- Best Detached Home Over $600,000 – The Skyview at The Architect Collection, Stapleton
- Detached Home Of The Year – The Skyview at The Architect Collection, Stapleton
- Built Green Home Of The Year – The Skyview at The Architect Collection, Stapleton
- Best Interior Design For A Detached Home Over $600,000 – The Skyview at The Architect Collection, Stapleton
- Active Adult Home Of The Year – The Prospect, Arbors at Lowry, Lowry
- Best Community Web Site By A Builder Or Developer – The Architect Collection, Stapleton

"It's a great honor to final in so many categories," says John Keith, President of Harvard Communities. "We've been a finalist many times over the years, and we've even won the grand award a couple of times, but we've never been a finalist in so many categories in one year," added Keith.

“This has been a great year of recognition for the things we do at Harvard Communities,” remarks Keith. “We are a finalist in the national “Best In American Living Awards” and we’ve won a couple of green building awards, including one from the Department of Energy’s Energy Star Program,” Keith continued. Harvard is known for building innovative homes which couple cutting edge design with state-of-the-art energy efficiency and the use of renewable energy. Harvard has garnered national recognition as one the country’s leaders in energy efficient production home building.

About Harvard Communities:

Harvard’s mission is to create a higher standard in home building. Harvard meets the needs and challenges of our times, with ultra energy efficient homes that cost less to operate and preserve our environment. Harvard believes in innovative green building practices, true craftsmanship and inspired architecture and design. Since 1992, Harvard has been building award-winning homes and neighborhoods in some of the most desirable areas of Denver, including Lowry, Stapleton, Belmar, Castle Pines Village and Cherry Hills Village.